Enriching Women

I heard you the first time!!

What goes around comes around, eh? This phrase is ringing in my ears as I must have continually asked my mother for something that initiated this reply. You know, when the constant repetition of a child's request for an item they consider immediate brings about this response. It is like we are summarily deaf and ignoring the plea or even worse; we don't consider it a request that requires a response! I find myself responding to my granddaughter in the same manner! It is like we are saying to them, it's OK your request has been noted and I will respond in due course. How frustrating to a small child....or dare I say, even to an adult!

'Relax Daniel, don't be afraid. From the first moment you decided.....your prayer was heard and I set out to come to you. But I was waylaid....'

But here we see the God of the Universe, in essence, saying the same thing in response to a 'didn't you hear me?' question from us. Just like a good parent, He hears us the very first time we ask, cry out or plead with Him. How awesome is that? Sometimes, we have to keep knocking on His door or seeking the actualisation of His response on earth, but are assured He heard us the first time!! The answer is on the way, but there may be a legitimate delay like getting rid of the obstacle to the answer! Aren't you so glad He isn't deaf? Relax girls!

Affectionately, Judith
